Customization

- Users can add to the OPI, but not modify the core (including scoring). The value of a single measure exceeds the value of customization which can be achieved through the use of complimentary indicators.
- If a fifth domain is desired, template includes space for this – however, complementary measures can be other indicators or methods.

- What counts as evidence?
  - Data, tracked, that shows performance in accordance with the standard
  - Reliability (independent scorers would arrive at same score)
  - Examples of evidence given in the OPI tool are not exhaustive
  - Reviewers should be open to new evidence types – as long as it upholds the standard articulated in the OPI and confirms the statement describing each level

■ Data sources

- Primary data should come from the partner organization.
- Primary data should reflect actions taken, not planning, for most areas.
- Secondary data can be obtained from other CSOs, media, and other sources outside of the organization. Make sure that the organization is aware if you are using secondary data in your scoring.

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Scoring

- Should have evidence of all aspects of a level to receive that score – e.g., until evidence of 3 per all aspects, is a 2.
- No partial scores or averages – whole numbers only.
- Aspire to consensus with organization, but ultimately is USAID's choice where to score.
- Explain scores to organization.

USAID

Common pitfalls

- When it is used for the first time, OPI should be carefully introduce to the partner. This can be done in a variety of ways (i.e. simple PPT presentation, emailing Index ahead of in-person meeting, pre-meeting to discuss, workshop with all partners who will use OPI).

USAID

Common pitfalls

- Organizational performance against targets, e.g. Results or Delivery, are for the entire organization's work, not its specific USAID grant. Cannot be determined from just USAID-supported work, unless that is all the organization does.
- Standards should be reviewed in advance. Some standards may apply from international or national standards; scorers need to know the reference points before talking to the organization.

USAID

Common pitfalls

- For Target Population, many organizations meet with stakeholders. However, need to provide evidence of using the results. In practice many organizations engage their stakeholders in discussions, and then do not follow up.
- In Learning, sometimes confusion between levels 3 and 4 criteria and evidence. At Level 3 sufficient for an organization's learning to influence its own programs and services. At Level 4, an organization must be influencing the programs and services of other actors.

FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Common pitfalls

- Prepare in advance, team should confirm understanding of evidence and ensure appropriate to context
